Lt. Colonel Minot Takes Over Today

The R.O.T.C. welcomes today the newly assigned Professor of Military Science and Tactics, Lt. Col. Charles A. Minot.

Colonel Minot is a veteran of fourteen years service. He has recently returned from Korea where he served as executive officer of the Fortieth Division. Prior to service in Korea, he served twenty-five months during World War II as commander of a field artillery unit in Europe. After the war he spent thirty-four months with the Army of Occupation in Germany, serving as an executive officer of a field artillery group.

Lt. Col. Charles A. Minot

Lt. Col. Minot is replacing Lt. Col. Vundervort who was transferred this summer to the Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

Recently assigned to the ROTC detachment at Loyola College are Sergeants William L. Clabo and Henry McCauley. Sergeant Clabo is replacing Master Sergeant Adlon as Sergeant Major.

Sergeant Clabo has recently returned from Germany where he was stationed with Headquarters, U.S. Army. He is also a veteran of Korea and has a total of six years service.

Sgt. Adlon Retires

Master Sergeant William L. Adlon, who has been Sergeant Major since the activation of the ROTC unit in June 1952, is being discharged from his current enlistment which expires October 25. He is a veteran of twenty years service.

Sergeant Adlon saw World War II service in Italy and had returned from Germany just prior to his assignment at Loyola College. He hails originally from Catasauqua, a suburb of Allentown, Pa., but now resides in Baltimore.

The other newcomer to the College is Master Sergeant Henry McCauley who already has a record of over ten years service. He is Assistant Instructor to Sergeants Geckle and Furnee.

Marines and Army

Sgt. McCauley, who originally comes from Ellicott City, Md., began his service career by enlisting in the Marines when he was sixteen. For almost three years he was stationed at a naval operating base at Guantanamo Bay in Cuba.

After his discharge from the Marines in February 1947, he enlisted in the Army and served thirty-one months with the 11th Airborne in Japan. For the next two years he was with the 82nd Airborne at Ft. Bragg, N.C.

Father Zorn Is New Treasurer

Money, money everywhere and not a cent to spend (at least, on himself). Such is the situation facing Father George Zorn, S.J., in his new job as Treasurer of Loyola College.

A native of West Orange, New Jersey, Father Zorn completed his elementary and high school education in that town. During his college days, he spent time at Seton Hall (of basketball fame) and Saint Peter's College, receiving his Bachelor of Science degree from the latter institution. Following graduation, he devoted his energies to a full-time teaching job.

Ordained in 1952

In 1943, with higher aims in view, he entered the Society of Jesus at St. Ignace Joxues Novitiate, Wernersville, Pa. He spent three years at Woodstock, Maryland for studies in Philosophy, one year of Regency at Gonzaga in Washington, D.C., and three more years at Woodstock, this time for Theology. He was ordained at Woodstock in 1952 by Archbishop Francis P. Keough.

Father Zorn comes to us straight from Tertianship, which he spent in Pomfret, Connecticut.

Although he had been on campus only a few days prior to the interview for this article, Father Zorn seemed to have favorable impressions of Loyola. He also expressed the hope that official duties would not prevent him from devoting some time to student activities.

Rev. George Zorn, S.J.

Retreat Begins This Week, Here And At Manresa

Loyola students from all four classes will make the retreat exercises to be held next week both on campus and at the Jesuit Retreat House at Manresa-on-the-Severn, near Annapolis, Maryland.

Underclassmen will make their retreat on campus. Junior and sophomore students will attend services conducted by the Rev. Thomas Burke, S.J., from New York. Freshman students will have as their Retreat Master the Rev. William-M. J. Driscoll, S.J., Province Director of the Jesuit Missions. Father Driscoll was formerly a member of the Loyola faculty.

The retreat this year will begin on Tuesday, October 19, and will continue until the closing Mass on October 22.

Senior Retreat Master, Fr. Brew

Senior students will journey to Manresa on October 19, accompanied by the Rev. John J. Scanlan, S.J., Senior Class Advisor. Retreat Master there will be the Rev. Thomas M. Brew, S.J.

Father Brew, who once was stationed at Loyola High School, is now Director of Manresa. Before entering the Jesuits, he was a Law student. He was ordained in 1945.

During the Retreat, non-Catholic students who so desire are invited to attend the Catholic retreat conferences. Those who do not choose to attend will be required to be present at a series of lectures on A Philosophy of Life to be given by the Rev. William J. Gibbons, S.J., Director of the Library.

Season Begins For Glee Club

Tenors, baritones and basses gathered forty-nine strong in Cohn Hall for the first Glee Club rehearsal. Under the direction of Mr. Felice Iula and Fr. Frederick Koehler S.J., the Glee Club looks forward to a most successful year.

Christmas Concert

Plans for the future include appearances at Mercy Hospital, Bon Secours Hospital, St. Joseph's College in Emmitsburg, Trinity College in Washington, Mt. St. Agnes and Visitation Academy. A Christmas Concert is planned in the chapel for December 12 and a spring concert on February 5 in conjunction with The Visitation Academy presentation.

A special Marian Year program will be presented on November 7 in Cohn Hall by the Glee Club along with St. Agnes Church Choir and Immaculate Heart of Mary Choir. The Baltimore Symphony Orchestra will accompany the singers.

RUNNING LOYOLA'S MARIAN YEAR—Dr. Harry W. Kirwin, Dr. P. Edward Hattenbach, Rev. John J. Scanlan, S.J., Rev. Francis X. Knott, S.J., Mr. Vincent J. Colimore, Rev. John J. O'Rourke, S.J., and Mr. Francis L. Christ.

Marian Exhibits Will Include Walters' Art

The Rev. Francis X. Knott, S.J., reports that the plans for the Loyola Marian Year Celebration are progressing well. The finale of the Marian Celebration is to be held on the night of November 7. The theme for the evening will be "Mary In Legend And Song", consisting of an extensive program of music and literature.

Preceding Marian Night, a number of exhibits will be on display. The exhibits, once set up, will be open to the general public. Guides will be provided by the Student Council of Loyola College for Sunday, October 31, and Sunday, November 7.

Display From Walters

Mr. John Carroll Kirby, assistant director of the Walters Art Gallery, is preparing a photographic exhibit on the Madonna Through the Ages, taken from the Walters Collection. This exhibit will be on display in the foyer of the Library Building, the originals remaining at the Walters Gallery. Through the cooperation of the Evergreen Foundation and Johns Hopkins University, Miss Elizabeth Baer, Librarian of the John Work Garrett Library and Mr. Kirby are arranging an exhibit on Mary, Patroness of the Sciences, to be displayed at Evergreen House. Miss Eugenia Calvert Holland, a member of the staff of the Maryland Historical Society, and Mr. Kirby are preparing an exhibit on Mary and Maryland.

Famous Stamps Shown

A philatelic exhibit will also be displayed. This will consist of various stamps dedicated to Mary. Fr. Knott has secured these stamps from the world-famous collection of Francis Cardinal Spellman. The stamps are presently on exhibition in the Philatelic Museum in Philadelphia.

Mr. Francis X. Gallagher is gathering material for a Marian Periodical Literature exhibit and has consulted the National Mariological Society for this purpose. Mr. Gallagher hopes to gather many American and European Periodicals specifically dealing with the Blessed Virgin. Mr. Vincent J. Colimore is in charge of a Marian short story and poetry contest. The subject must, of course, be something about the Blessed Mother. The deadline for entries is October 15, the day after tomorrow. The winners will be chosen by three judges and will be announced on Marian Night.

Seniors Plan Class Activity

Loyola's Seniors are planning an active social season to round out the final year of their college careers. The events announced by class president Joe DeSantis range from the Senior Retreat to the somewhat less spiritual exercises of June Week.

Soon after the Retreat, the class will sponsor its Fall dance, which this year has been christened "The Haunted House". The dance was formerly called "The Harvest Moon Ball". According to Jay Foley, dance chairman, novelty will be the keynote this year. Attendees are promised a rich diet of ghosts, rattling chains and all manner of Charles Addamsia. The music will be by Frank Welsh, with tickets available on or about October 12.

Senior Prom on April 23

The dance is the last planned high-spot of the '54 season. Resumption of activity is to be heralded by the Senior Prom on April 23, 1955. At present, the Hillendale Country Club is being considered as the locale for the affair. More exhaustive information is expected after the Christmas holidays.

Finally, the Seniors will make their farewell in the traditional blaze of June Week glory. No definite plans have been formulated, but co-chairmen DeSantis and Lanzl promise a week of spirited frolic whose name shall be called "Frenzy".

New Teachers Pleased With Loyola Atmosphere

Two additions have been made to the Loyola College Lay Faculty this year. They are Mr. Frederick J. Gancher of the Business Department and Mr. H. Charles Staley of the English Department.

Mr. Gancher is already a familiar figure to most business students. He is teaching freshmen, junior and senior courses in accounting, marketing and the role of government in business. Mr. Gancher's home-town is Woonsocket, Rhode Island. He received his bachelor's degree from Providence College in 1946. Then he served a two year term as a First Lieutenant in the Army, acting as a military observer in Japan.

Experienced Man

Mr. Gancher brings a wealth of practical business experience to Loyola with him. He was employed as a public accountant in Providence and worked in the marketing division of Standard Oil. He is at the present time studying for his Master's degree at Boston College.

Mr. Staley is here in the dual role of teacher and director. In addition to instructing freshmen and sophomores in English and speech, he is also planning a busy season as Director of the Mask and Rapier Society.

Mr. Staley possesses a wide educational background, having studied at St. John's in Brooklyn, Boston University, the University of

Mr. H. Charles Staley

Pennsylvania and the University of Manchester in England. He received his M.A. from the University of Pennsylvania last year and is about to receive his Ph.D. from the same institution.

Veteran of the Bulge

The entertainment of G.I.'s in occupied Germany immediately after the close of World War II provided Mr. Staley with a wealth of experience in directing theatrical performances. He served four years in the Army and took part in the famous Battle of the Bulge.

Both of the new Faculty members reported that they were most impressed by Loyola College. Mr. Gancher commented that industry was looking for men with a good liberal arts background. Mr. Staley is very pleased with Loyola's small college atmosphere, since he believes that this is of special advantage both to teacher and student.

History Academy Has First Meeting

The first meeting of the History Academy's 1954-1955 season was opened by Ann Quimper at the home of John Kulor. Dr. William D. Hoyt, Jr., member of the group, welcomed back the old members and outlined the purpose, origin and organization of the John Gibbons' Shes Academy for the benefit of its new members.

On October 7 the first two papers of the year were delivered. Gene May spoke on Sam Tilden and Chad Campbell delivered a paper on South America up to 1845. The meeting was held at the home of Ray Belink.

The group hopes to be able to make a trip to either Antietam or Gettysburg in order to get some firsthand information on these phases. Speakers from Hopkins will be invited to address the Academy in Xavier Lounge.

Gaeng Aids Formation Of L I T Chapter

Mr. Francis L. Christ, of the department of English, announces the establishment at Loyola of a chapter of the Lambda Iota Tau Honorary Literary Society. The society is among the youngest of such fraternities in America, its first chapter having been organized last year. The Loyola (Rho) chapter is the first to be chartered in Maryland. The significance of this is best demonstrated by the fact that all future Maryland chapters will have to be received into the society through the good offices of Loyola's Rho Chapter.

First Chapter At Michigan

The first chapter of Lambda Iota Tau was organized at Michigan State College in December, 1953. The avowed mission of the society is to encourage the study of literature, as the "... core of a liberal education." This aim is to be realized through the publication of a national student literature quarterly, an annual convention and "... liaison with national professional societies".

Installation in Winter

On the local scene, Mr. Christ and his charter members Ray Gaeng, acting president, and Dan Muekey, have made extensive plans for the Rho Chapter. The exact date of the initial meeting has not been determined. An announcement is forthcoming and will be published in the Greyhound. The major activity of the season will be the installation of the chapter in December or January. New members will be received into the society at that time.

"Inspector General" To Tour Campus Dramatic Society Assists In Marian Year

Looking forward to its biggest year, the Dramatic Society held its second meeting on October 4 in order to formulate plans for the coming season.

The Society's first endeavor, of course, will be its participation in the long-awaited Marian Year celebration. This festivity, honoring Our Lady, will take place on November 7, and will be open to the public free of charge. The Mask and Rapier's role in this celebration will be of a purely technical nature, since the members will be in charge of the staging and lighting connected with the production.

Loyola Nite November 21
Next on the actors' calendar will be the sponsorship of the annual Loyola Nite Show which will be held again on the eve of Thanksgiving, November 24. Judging from the number of students who have expressed a desire to unveil their latent talent, the annual student variety show should prove to be as successful as in previous years.

"The Inspector General"

Moving out from behind the scenes, the society will present its first full-fledged dramatic production on December 2, 3, and 4. The play which was decided upon by Mr. Staley, the new director, will be "The Inspector General" by Nikolai Gogol. In order to insure the technical success of this play, readings from the various parts took place on Thursday, October 7. Participating in the production also, will be members of the dramatic societies of both Notre Dame of Maryland and Mount St. Agnes Colleges.

Once again the Society urges interested students of all classes to attend the Mask and Rapier meetings to make the coming year a dramatic success.

Father Gibbons Stars As Traveler-Economist

The Rev. William J. Gibbons, S.J., Professor of Economics and Director of the Library for the College, is often seen hurrying around the library trying to get a maximum of work done in a minimum of time. What most of us do not realize is that the energetic Fr. Gibbons is a scholar whose studies in economics and sociology have taken him over a large part of the world.

Father Gibbons recently returned to the United States from a trip to Europe. He was gone from August 6 to September 18. His main purpose was to attend two international conferences in Rome, but he visited other centers of learning as well. En route he first visited Oxford University, where he conferred with several economists. Then he went to the Jesuit study center in Paris, L'Action Populaire. Six days were spent in Geneva, where Fr. Gibbons conferred with governmental and non-governmental personnel on international migration.

Delivered Two Papers

The first meeting he attended in Rome was the World Population Conference held from August 31 to September 10. More than three hundred took part in this conference. Some four hundred scholarly papers were presented, with simultaneous translations in English, French, Spanish and Russian. Fr. Gibbons, in addition to acting as reporter for the meetings on immigration, presented two papers himself. His principle paper was entitled Immigration Outlook—The Americas.

The second meeting in Rome was the Catholic Migration Congress. It was attended by three hundred delegates from all the principal immigration and emigration countries. Here Father Gibbons presented a paper dealing with the some 18 million Indians living in North and South America who have not yet been assimilated into the prevailing European cultures. The paper was entitled Indigenous Populations of the Americas.

Greek Civilization Classicists' Theme

The Classics Academy held its first regular meeting on October 5 in Xavier Lounge. The subject discussed was The Background of Greek History. The development of Greek civilization is to be the general theme of this year's activity for the Academy.

An informal series of seminars and group discussions will be presented by the Classics Academy in the Lounge on alternate Tuesdays throughout the year, under the direction of Dr. P. Edward Kaltenbach, moderator of the Academy and Chairman of the Classics Department.

Greek politics, history, literature and science will be among the topics covered during the year. "The Academy hopes that this varied program will attract students interested in these fields," stated John Tormey, president. It is not necessary that new members have any knowledge at all of Greek or Latin.

After the Congress completed its agenda, Father Gibbons flew back to Baltimore to resume his teaching duties.

Globe-trotter

Fr. Gibbons, who was formerly Associate Editor of America from 1945 to 1948 and a consultant to the National Catholic Rural Life Conference, is no newcomer to globe-trotting. In 1951 he went to Europe for the Rural Life Conference Group, and in January of 1953 he was in Columbia, South America, for a conference.

Rev. William J. Gibbons, S.J.

Junior Sodality Reorganization

In an effort to improve the spiritual good of the sophomore sodalist and to better prepare the freshmen candidates for admission, the Junior Sodality has been divided into two groups. The sophomore sodalists will acquaint the freshmen with the purpose of the Sodality and the obligations of the sodalist. This will not only increase their zeal, but will make them well informed Catholics. The freshmen are being introduced to the Sodality in their weekly meetings by Prefect Tony Young and Vice-prefect Jim Lombardi. All outside activities have been temporarily discontinued to fulfill this project.

In preparation for the Marian Celebration to be held at Evergreen under Father Knott's direction, the Junior Sodalists will act as guides, lecture at the exhibits and take part in the Dramatic Society's productions.

Haunted House

A new dance, the "Haunted House Dance", is this year replacing the "Harvest Moon Ball" as the Senior Class's regular autumn social event. Under the direction of Jay Foley, the dance will be held in the gym on Halloween Eve, Saturday, October 30. Music will be by Frank Welsh. Tickets are to be $2.40.

The affair takes its name from the unusual haunted house motif being planned by Decoration Committee chairmen Jim Durkin and Feril Mainolfi. Jay Foley is acting as general chairman for the dance. Walt Seihyl is in charge of refreshments, and Bob Lantzman is going to create a "Chamber of Horrors" in the Gym basement.

Hunt Spearheads Drive For Yearbook Support

With the finish-line stretched to March 1, save for some necessarily late material on sports, work on the 1955 Evergreen is showing a rapid acceleration.

Under the editorship of Jim Durkan, the section editors are planning the layouts of their respective sections.

Senior portraits are scheduled to be taken today, October 13, and Friday, October 15, in Xavier Lounge.

In order to assure full photo coverage for the large Freshman Class, Photography Editor Ken Schertle plans to utilize what is known as a "wide angle lens". In past years, a number of the members of the larger classes have had to be satisfied with names but no physiognomies appearing on class portraits.

Only Juniors Answer

With regard to the plea sent out by the editors for a representative from each of the underclasses to work with the editors, only the Junior Class has acted. Wayne White will represent that class. The Freshman and Sophomore classes have yet to appoint men for the job.

The desirable features of having individual class representatives are: first, the assurance that the respective classes are given proper coverage, and secondly, that one member of each class will become acquainted with the "ropes" of yearbook management.

In the Business Department, Seniors Al Rabassa and Marty Reilly are taking care of subscriptions in Freshman year, while Ed Arthur and John Sheehan are handling the Sophomore and Junior years, respectively. John Enley has care of patrons and subscriptions.

Booth in Cafeteria

Business Manager Dick Hunt reminds all that a booth will be open in the cafeteria every Monday at Noon, to give out forms for ads, patrons and sponsors, and to take care of returns. Patrons are priced at two dollars, sponsors at five dollars. All ads carry a 10 percent commission.

Since only 450 copies will be printed it is important to get your subscription in early.

East-West Split Is Theme Of IRC

The International Relations Club, under the leadership of its president Sam Ady, held its first meeting on Monday, September 27.

An explanation of the purpose of the organization was first on the agenda. The floor was then opened for discussion of the general theme for the club's activities. After several views were presented, it was unanimously decided to set the first semester topic as The East-West Cleavage as Manifested in Asia.

The topic was chosen because it is broad enough to allow sub-topics covering all aspects of the problem. First speaker this year was Jim O'Hara, last year's IRC president, who spoke at a meeting held yesterday. His talk presented a general survey of the material to be covered in later sessions.

Debaters Clash Over Red China

The Robert Bellarmine Debating Society will start its season this year when it meets the debating society of Johns Hopkins University in Levering Hall on Monday, October 18. Loyola is sending two teams to face the Hopkins men. On the Affirmative will be John Tormey and Sam Ady, while Loyola's Negative team will be Hal Sanks and Jim O'Hara.

The national topic this year is Resolved: That the United States should extend diplomatic recognition to the Communist Government of China.

Intra-Squad Debates Planned

In preparation for their foray with Hopkins, the above-mentioned teams met in an intra-squad debate before the Society today at 11 o'clock. This was the first in a series of intra-squad practice debates which are planned for the near future. The purpose of these practice debates is to enable the members to gather material before the regularly scheduled debates in the James Cardinal Gibbons Debating League get underway on Nov. 4.

The league will hold its first meeting at Notre Dame of Maryland on Sunday, October 17, at 2 P.M. The League members will make any adjustments in the schedule that are necessary and agree on the interpretation of the topic as it will be used in the League this year.

The addition of several experienced freshmen to the Society has bolstered its depth considerably. Mr. Voci, the moderator, hopes that an early start will enable the society to make a much better showing this year than last year, when Loyola ranked fourth in the League.

Distribution Of NSA Discount Cards Planned

Tom Burch, local National Students' Association president, announces that the long-awaited Student Discount Cards which will entitle Loyola College Students to discounts of ten to thirty percent on clothes, food, books, records, etc. at local merchants are on the way, and will be available for a nominal fee as soon as they arrive.

Another NSA project will be the presentation of a full-day Leadership Training Course at Notre Dame of Maryland sometime in November. Topics discussed will be School Leadership, Getting People to Use Parliamentary Procedure, and Putting Over an Effective Promotion Campaign.

Future Projects

Loyola's junior representative, Jerry Kauper, points out that the National Students' Association, through its clearing house in Philadelphia is also working on sponsoring projects which are more easily accomplished through the efforts of several schools, rather than the individual colleges. Some of these projects deal with the problems of minority groups, the adjustment of foreign students and the establishment of amicable relations among students of different races, while others deal with the economic welfare of the students, student aid and scholarship programs and ways of combatting the high cost of a college education.

Thousand Volumes Added By Library

Great changes have been made in the Library over the summer. Parts of the Library have been rearranged, out of date volumes have been discarded and well over a thousand new ones added.

Some four thousand books have been removed from the biography, religion, philosophy and literature sections to make room for new works in these fields.

References Reorganized

The reference section has been completely reorganized in order to make it more useful to everyone.

A major overhaul of the Physics and Mathematics Library is being carried out. It has been recataloged, and many recent volumes have been added to it.

Students in all divisions of the college borrowed an average of eight books last year.

DeSantis And Lanzi Are Senior Personalities Plus

The senior class president, Joe DeSantis has had long experience as a leader of men. At "the High School" Joe occupied practically every class office that was to be had. This tradition was continued in "the College" where he broke in as frosh treasurer, and in subsequent years, was president and vice-president of his class.

Always active in the Student Council, Joe has distinguished himself as a distance runner on the track and cross-country teams. He can also be seen at the Glee Club concerts (a first bass).

A member of the senior ROTC class, he commanded the Pershing Rifle Drill Team. Associated with Connie Lanzi, he will proctor "Frenzy Week" for the graduating seniors.

An Affable Fellow

When not taking the lust McElroy share, he usually can be found in a local sartorial shop applying his gregarious personality to his customers. His interests vary from the cinema to quaffing with the boys. He claims the distinction of never missing a social function or a sports event. Throughout his three years, Joe's enthusiasm for the Hounds has spread that much needed commodity about the school.

Links to the Law

After his tenure with the military as a Second Lieutenant, Joe aspires to the law profession.

One of the most affable lads on the campus was seated at the litter-laden table as a group of seniors discussed the world situation. He said little, but made his few remarks authoritatively. His name—Herman "Connie" Lanzi. For the past two years the treasurer of his class, this senior is also associated with the Mask and Rapier Society, the Glee Club (second tenor without lubrication), the Management Club and the Pershing Rifles.

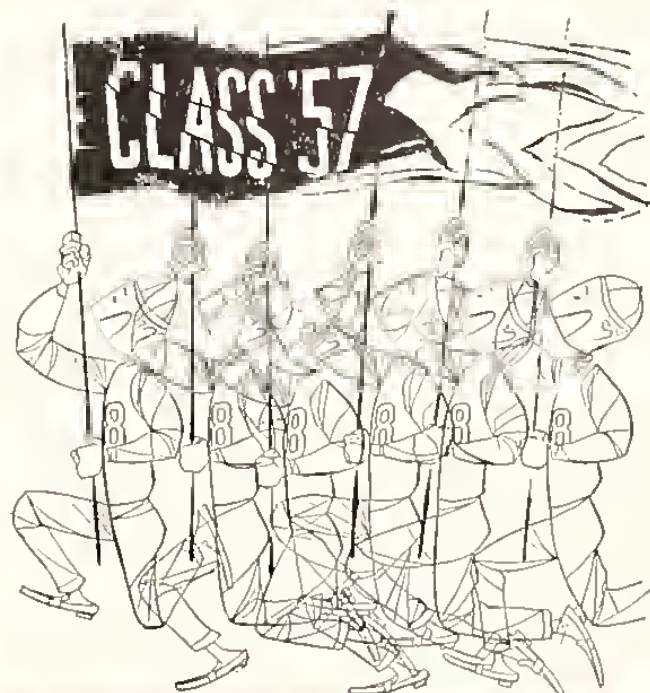

Usually seen at all the dances, Connie has consistently assumed the duties of chairman on various dance committees throughout his years at Loyola. Last year the very successful Military Ball proved his ability to organize and conciliate.

To Marry Soon

On December 28 of this year Connie will wed his very pretty fiancée, Miss Carol Reilly, sister of Marty Reilly of the senior year. Although the army has first draft choice on the sociable senior, he expects to go into the field of salesmanship when his tour of duty is over.

Together with Joe DeSantis,

Connie is endeavoring to plan the Senior's activities for the rest of the year. On the committees for Senior Week and Prom, he also stretches his schedule to take in the business staff of the yearbook and intramurals (second base).

Editorials

The College Administration Has . . .

. . . cooperated quite willingly in trying to ease the overcrowded conditions which exist in the cafeteria any time the entire student body is free. The opening of Xavier Lounge to the seniors and juniors after Mass on First Friday and after the Mass of the Holy Ghost was quite a help and was done merely for the asking. They are now considering a motion brought up by the Student Council to allow the juniors and seniors to eat lunch in the Lounge regularly. This kind of cooperation merits the same on the part of the students.

The condition of the cafeteria since the opening of school has been, to say the least, deplorable. The Slater System is unworkable and there are more students than there were last year. Under these circumstances, some action should be taken—but not only by the Slater System or the administration. Father Arthur has invested in some new trash containers and he has every right to expect them to be used. It is the least the student body can do to pick up their own refuse and deposit it in the proper receptacles. If the students would spend the time and energy cleaning up the cafeteria that they do complaining about it, the situation could be remedied!

In This Year Dedicated to Mary . . .

. . . it is most fitting that Loyola College should honor her in some particular way. The general plans for the Marian Year celebration should be familiar to everybody by now. What the students may not realize, however, is that they are expected to participate and do their part to honor the Mother of God.

The work and planning that the faculty members have put into this celebration should be equaled by the interest and help of the student body. The point is not just to put up pictures and exhibits pertaining to Mary, but to have people see and appreciate them. It is hoped that the exhibits and pageantry on Marian Night, November 7, will instill in those who witness it a deeper appreciation of the position Mary holds in our Faith. The Pope did not dedicate an entire year to her merely because he wanted something to do in December 8, 1953. He did so because he desired that Catholics the world over realize the necessity of devotion to the Lady whose promises and warnings at Fatima stirred the world.

The students are expected to help whenever needed and more important, to bring their families and friends to share in Loyola College's homage to Our Lady of Evergreen.

For A Nation That Professes . . .

. . . to be both Christian and democratic, we have been displaying an amazing lack of both in the past few weeks. The disturbances that took place in Milford, Delaware, and even right here in Baltimore concerning the desegregation policy adopted by the respective school boards offer disgusting evidence of the narrow-minded prejudice that apparently still exists in these areas. No one expected the decision of the Supreme Court and the subsequent decisions of the school boards to be warmly received by everyone. It is natural for some people to disagree with such a bold and forward step. There is a heritage in some areas of this country that no ruling of the Supreme Court can overcome. The Court obviously realizes that. Nevertheless there is no excuse for the mob population of the neighboring hamlet of Milford to act like a group of two years olds minus their lollipop. If some people do have a twisted sense of moral righteousness, they could at least express it in a more civilized manner.

The disturbances that occurred here at Schools Nos. 34, 55, 22, 48 and at Southern High School were mostly the work of the students, though ultimately the cause reverts back to their parents. They might have had an ulterior motive (hoping school might close) or it might have just been the mob spirit to which teen-agers, so easily fall prey. Those people who agitated them, are far more responsible than the students themselves.

The most amazing part of all is that no disturbances occurred until school had been in session for almost three weeks! It is rather strange that, if people objected so strenuously, they did not do so when the semester opened. Perhaps it just took that long for the momentum to gather. Or was it a matter of organization? Whatever it was, it certainly did point up the difference between what America professes and what she does. It is a far cry from what other democratic nations expect from the country that is supposed to be the leader of the free world. Such a selfish, narrow-minded, prejudiced point of view, presents to our enemies our weakest side. Some propaganda experts should enjoy it.

Poll Shows Frosh Class Traditional

by Charles Wunder

In most colleges and universities, the annual appraisal of the Freshman Class is as much a tradition as a weak sophomore rugby team is at Loyola. So in keeping with our "Catch Up To Maryland" campaign, we have decided to investigate the salient qualities of the Class of '58. Since this is the first attempt at such a prodigious statistical compilation, there may be minor errors.

The average name of the average freshman turned out to be Khadrew Fremlobe (a large fraction of the staff held out for Bzkaljra Puitika, but it was later proven that two pollsters hadiddled with the ballots.) The modern freshman lives in a house. (The Arabian was persuaded to pitch his tent in the interests of uniformity.)

Eyeballs and A Bail Abacus. Most of the freshmen seemed to be after a bachelor's degree. The average eye color was decided only after two hundred pigments were mixed in a mortar with pestle. Red was found to be the dominant color. Of course, this does not take into consideration the various size eyeballs and hence should be taken with a grain of eye-wash. The normal height was found to be eight feet, three inches, and the average weight was 62 pounds. At publishing time it was noted that the abacus used in the operation was 84 heads short, and the reader should interpolate accordingly.

The average favorite sport was monopoly (the business students are legion) with redline running a hasty second. In regard to relaxation, only two freshmen mentioned ROTC drill, while the majority claimed that knending cold clay with their feet offered tranquility to the troubled spirit. The MVD was the collective political choice.

Religion and Republicans. The question, "Which church do you attend?", was answered Brick, Catholic, St. Rose of Lima and Stucco in that order. "Do you like Senator McCarthy?", a highly passionate question at Loyola, was handled with the diffidence that has long keynoteed this journal. The letters "N-O-Y-E-S" were counted and evaluated, and "Nyet" was decided as the average, everyday run-of-the-mill freshman's reply.

Upon further research in the various language tomes that abound on campus, it was discovered that "Nyet" is a Russian term, meaning "no". This startling information was forwarded to Mr. Ed Hoover of our crime staff, and he promised to send an agent to plumb the depths of intrigue.

Prefer Intellectual Pursuits. The frosh taste in entertainment was found to lie in the humanitarian-type program. "Round of Life" and "Yuhag Widder Brown" were the most popular dramas; three biology majors cast their vote for "Zoo Parade". There were forty-two sidewalk crack-counters, twenty-nine of whom were also crack steppers-over. Philately accounted for 73% following and 27% pursued Philataphobia, or in lay terms, stamp burning.

As a closing note for those parents who peruse this paper, the average freshman admitted that parents are necessary for the physical and economic well-being of the college man, but insisted that the most paternal and maternal control was anachronistic after eighteen.

"NO-THAT ONE WAS 'TENDERLY' NOW TRY TO GUESS THIS ONE!"

Your Student Council

MAURICE BOZEL, PRES.

Since this is my initial article concerning the Student Council's activities and progress, I would like to start off the year by throwing much-deserved bouquets in the proper directions. The executive committee of the Student Council merits much acclaim. It is comprised of Hal Sunks, vice-president; Jim O'Hara, secretary; Jim Durkna, parliamentarian; Sam Ady, treasurer; and Jim Long, social secretary. These men, together with the other members of the Council, have donated much time, energy and enthusiasm to make this an extremely successful year. They have your interests at heart.

Freshmen Cooperate

Hats off to the Freshman Class for the splendid way in which they conducted themselves during the orientation sessions. We of the Student Council are justly proud of the true Loyola spirit they displayed. Keep up the good work!

No one needs to be reminded of the sad situation existing in the cafeteria. This year, with an increased registration, it is harder than ever to find a place to sit and eat lunch. And, to make matters worse, those who are fortunate enough to find a place to sit add to the misery of their successors by leaving their refuse on the tables. The result is a scene resembling the city dump on trash collecting day. If everyone did his part and picked up his refuse, this deplorable situation could be greatly altered. Please cooperate. You'll be surprised at the difference!

Ask For Improvement

The Student Council has proposed to the Dean that the juniors and seniors be permitted to eat their lunch in Xavier Lounge. This, they believe, will greatly reduce the congestion in the cafeteria.

The general assembly held a few weeks ago for the presentation of the scholastic awards proved one important fact—very few members of the student body know the Alma Mater. Need more be said?

Last, but by no means least, I would like to say a few words about the Marian Year celebration. The Student Council has already pledged its wholehearted support to this worthy cause and rightly expects cooperation from the entire student body. If you are called on to donate either your time or services to the celebration, please help out!

INEXCUSABLE EXHIBITION

When, at the general assembly held on Wednesday, September 29, the student body was asked to rise and sing the Alma Mater, the results were pitiful. The few gasps that escaped from those who were or are members of the Glee Club were lost in the silence.

Let anyone try to give the excuse that he does not know the words, they are printed below. We hope that in the future every student will be capable of giving forth with the Alma Mater when the occasion demands!

ALMA MATER

Alma Mater, dear Loyola,
We salute thy noble name:
Evergreen thy memory, immortal
be thy fame.
Hold aloft the torch of learning,
Keep aglow the guiding flame,
While we tread thy lighted way
And merit thy acclaim.

Hail! dear Loyola hail!
Alma Mater true!
Our love and our loyalty
To thee we pledge anew.
Time will thy sons disperse,
Sons may us part,
Still, will each loyal son keep thee
enshrined,
Loyola, in his heart.

GYM JOTTINGS

by Joe Manz

The Athletic Department has announced that season basketball books will soon be available. Notices will be posted as to when students may obtain their books. Loyola is one of the few colleges in the country that admits its students to athletic events free, so come out and support our Greyhounds by cooperating one hundred percent. All that is required for a student to obtain one of these free books is to present a small snapshot with his registration card at the Athletic Office.

Practice Starts October 25
Basketball practice will get under way on October 25 this year. Coach Lefty Reitz expects a large turnout of candidates to battle for positions on the squad. Bill Childs will handle the program and Larry Hart will be in charge of publicity. Among the promising candidates out for the freshman squad this year are Denny Neff of Calvert Hall, and Denny McGuire of Mt. St. Joe. It is hoped that they will be "menaces" on the basketball floor.

The Boosters Club hopes to organize pep rallies for each of the home basketball games. Tentative plans also are being made for staging halftime activities. Also in the planning stage are car pools to the various away games and a train excursion to one of the New York City games if enough students show interest.

Ed Burnham, former Director of Sports Activity, is now teaching at the Maryland Training School for Boys.

Ticket Sales Progress
Presaison ticket sales for basketball are progressing at a good pace, indicating an increased interest among the alumni this year. The annual Father and Son Ban-

Rifle Team To Start Practice

The Loyola Rifle Team has great hopes of becoming a major threat in college competition this year. Now with the newly finished rifle range, which is located directly behind the gym, the team will have much more time to practice. Last year the squad had to use the Johns Hopkins rifle range and could fire only twice a night. The new range is considered to be the best indoor range in the state of Maryland.

Sgt. Geckle Coaches
M/Sgt. Albert Geckle will again be the team's coach and advisor. He will have back as regular members of the team, Charlie Wunder, Irv Guss, Jerry Kaupfer and Vince McCorry. To add to the team's strength, there are many freshmen who have had high school rifle team experience and who are going out for the team.

There will be quite a few colleges opposing the team this year, among them Gettysburg and Johns Hopkins. There is also the possibility that the University of Maryland's cracker-jack rifle team will be facing the "Shooting Hounds".

It is requested that freshmen and sophomores interested in becoming members of the team this year see either Cal Jordan or Sgt. Geckle as soon as possible.

More Matches
Some other matches are with; Montana State, Michigan, Colorado R.O.T.C., Colorado A&M, Western Maryland, Washington & Lee and the University of Virginia. These away matches are conducted by mail.

quet, sponsored by the Block "L" Club, is scheduled for Wednesday, December 1, before the Georgetown game. It is hoped that this affair will mark the launching of a successful season for the Greyhounds. Further information regarding prices and other details will be given later.

... On the two new ping-pong tables in the recreation room of the gym, a doubles team of Gene Uhl and Paul Feild think themselves unbeatable. As an aside, one of these two men asked me to please put his name in the paper, so here it is. PAUL EDWARD FEILD. There is another wicked doubles team in the persons of Jim Staiti and Reils Leyh. The right spirit was shown by a freshman intramural team who were seen the other day practicing on the field. A rather belated welcome is due to both Vince Kelly and Marsh Love. Vince was a former Hound grappler before he entered the Navy. He is the brother of "Crazy" Ed Kelly, the junior. Marsh played goalie on the 1952 hieresse team. Dan Whiteford, 1954, can be seen daily either in the gym or on the tennis courts. What a life these alumni have...

SPORTS FILMS TO BE SHOWN

The first meeting of the Block "L" Club was called in order on Thursday, September 13 at 11:00 o'clock by president Bill Phillips. At the meeting, election of officers for the year was held. The new officers are, beside Phillips, Bob Coeol, vice-president, Fred Buchness, treasurer, and Bob Benzing, secretary. These men replace Ned Callahan, Dan Whiteford and Allan Meehan who served in the respective offices.

New Meeting Place
At the business part of the meeting, members were told that permission had been obtained from school authorities to hold some meetings on Friday nights in the Student Lounge. For these meetings, the club is trying to obtain sports films to be shown after the business has been completed.

The Block "L" is also considering a merger with the Boosters Club. This is being done in order to promote student interest in the athletic events coming up in the future, especially for the basketball games, where spirit and support are really lacking. It was the Block "L" which supplied the television set in the gymnasium for the use of the students during the recent World Series.

Dates Set
Dates have been set for the coming social events sponsored by the Block "L", the "Athletes Fete", a dance, and the Father and Son Banquet. The Banquet will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 1, immediately preceding the Georgetown-Loyola basketball game. The dance will be held much later in the season, on January 21, with the Mountaineers of Mt. St. Mary's as an added attraction.

Members are also reminded that fifty cents dues are now being collected. The treasury is not as well off as it would like to be, so please be prompt in paying.

Ten Teams To Pursue Streaks

Intramurals at Evergreen are in full swing. Football and tennis interest prevails at the moment. It looks like a ten-team league in football from the present returns. Last year's champion, Streaks of '56, return with the same powerful alignment led by Paul Feild and Frank Dickson. The Rambling Rebels, former runner-up team are once again prepared to fight it out down to the wire.

This year is supposed to be a tug one on the Intramural Sports front. However, football is the only sport which seems to be measuring up to expectations. This lag of interest, especially in the lower classes, seems to be due to a lack of talent. Many fail to realize that the majority are just waiting to be led toward some worthy goal.

Tennis Matches Set
However, the tennis returns are also quite satisfying. Ed Ellison, the former intramural court king has joined the ranks of the alumni, leaving the tournament wide open. Joe Judge is a likely choice for this year's crown. However, each year from the great mass of freshmen one or two men emerge and manage temporarily to steal the show.

The horseshoe singles and the track and field entries have been a bitter disappointment. The deadline for entries has been extended because of this failure. Many of the horseshoe enthusiasts departed last year. This, however, should encourage, rather than discourage, students to participate.

Track Added to Program
A track and field league is being introduced for the first time into the program. A minimum of seven men is required on each team. One team from each class would be sufficient to make the league a success for the simple reason that it is the program's initial year. Nevertheless, there is no reason why more could not participate. This, perhaps, could be accomplished if the fellows who run home after classes would instead, run in a few of the meets.

Anyone desiring information concerning intramurals should first consult the bulletin board in the gym. If further information is desired, Ed Fick, Intramural Commissioner, is usually available.

Football Begins
The intramural football season opened on Thursday, October 7, with the senior Bozel Bombshells facing the sophomore Olympians. It was the seniors all the way, as they captured their first win, by a score of 12-0. Sparked by the running of Bill Phillips and Moe Bozel, the Bombshells jumped off to an early lead and were never headed. Their first touchdown came on a Moe Bozel-pass to Bill Phillips who was all by himself in the end-zone. The other score came on a pass interception by Al Ruhassa who caught the ball and ran all the way, unmolested, for the score. Outstanding in the play for the Olympians were Skip Chiril and Joe Murray. A game was played on Monday between the defending-champion Streaks and the same Olympians. This game was played at 12:00 o'clock on the athletic field, with the Streaks slight favorites.

Maryland defeated Loyola, 2-0, last Wednesday.

Soccer Team To Play Washington

This afternoon, the Hound pitchers travel to Washington College and there engage the Shoremen. The Green and Gray will be seeking revenge for the defeat handed them last year by Washington.

The team opened up its season against the University of Maryland last Wednesday. The defending champs of the A.C.C. defeated the Hounds by a score of 2-0. The Greyhounds played very well in their opener against the strong Terps, with Jack Benzing, Gene Settler and Tom Bailey really excelling. It was midway through the first period before Jose Hagedorn picked up a loose ball and deposited it in the Hound nets. Their second score came on a pass from Hagedorn to Otto Winkelman with but 3:15 remaining in the half. In the second half, the Greyhounds held the highly favored Terps, but the Green and Gray themselves could not score.

Friday, Loyola traveled to Western Maryland and played the Green Terrors. The score was 2-1, Western Maryland.

Newcomers
With the revived turnout of the freshman class, soccer coach Tommy Lind has acquired a host of bright prospects. Although the youngsters are short on experience they have the hustle and will to win which should give the team a tremendous boost. Among the newcomers are Jack Beatty, a short hard playing halfback; Jim Hooper, who is fighting for a starting berth in a fullback slot; Neil Schmidt, a promising linesman; Tony Demman, linesman.

Quinn Changed
Of course, for the most part, Coach Lind will still be relying on last year's returnees to carry a good deal of the load. Among the major changeovers which Lind has put into effect, is the switch of John Quinn from the line to fullback. Quinn has turned out to be a dependable stalwart in one of the conference's best backfields. Jack Benzing, Tom Bailey, Fred Cox, Elmer Medley, Jim Koch, Jack Dunler and John Mannion have also been important factors in keeping up a tight defense.

Another change was that of German Gonzala, probably the team's best ball handler, to a front line position. The Latin American who is now a member of a talented but slow starting offensive unit. Ed Deutz, Skip Chiril, Gerry McCarran and Jim Donahue are handling the ball well when bringing it up-field, but are missing the all important easy goals. The goal is being well protected again this year by last year's keepers, Gene Settler and Jim Allenhough.

All in all, however, the team is showing great spirit and is expected to put up a real fight for the Mason-Dixon crown.

FRESH DOWN SOPHS IN BALLOON BATTLE

The Class of '58 won the annual Ragby Game last Friday by a score of 4-0. The game lasted only twenty minutes but will be remembered as one of the most unusual games of the fall classic. At three o'clock the mass of green and gray pup caps began to converge on the gym. Meanwhile the soph's gathered together some eighteen strong. When Larry Hart placed the ball on the mid-field mark the outcome of the game was certain.

Soph's Score
One hundred and fifty freshmen came down on the valiant band of soph defenders. Rudy DeSantis crossed the goal for the first score in the opening minute. From that time on the sophomores had to be content with stealing an occasional pup cap. Mass confusion took over after Ray Klinowitz, Dick Kinkern and Pat Duffy scored for '58. Although the game was a rout, the sophomores taught the freshmen a very valuable lesson. Out-numbered and out-scored they stuck to their guns in the true Loyola spirit. They were never out-fought, no doubt the freshmen respect them for their effort.

After the game the real fun began. Larry Hart and Ed Fick the able referees were chased and given the traditional dunking. Many thanks are due Ed and Larry for a job well done. Both teams then retired to lick their wounds.

And so the little green and gray pup caps disappear from Evergreen for another year.

Greyhound Runners To Test Bluejays

Loyola College's cross-country team opens its season against Johns Hopkins on Saturday, Oct. 16. The outlook for future inter-collegiate cross-country at Loyola has improved but is by no means bright. The Hounds witnessed a very discouraging year in '53 when only five athletes reported to Coach Bill McElroy for practice. Undermanned, they participated in five meets, lost all of them, and placed last in the Mason-Dixon Tournament.

Only Two Veterans

The Green and Gray in '54, will be larger, yet less experienced. Ed Colbourn, the finest runner at Evergreen last year, has graduated, while Jim Vueth and Dare Meinert, two fine freshman prospects a year ago, will not be back. Paul Feild and Andy Mayho, therefore, remain as the only two veterans on the present squad. Jack McCann and Bernie Platt, a junior and sophomore respectively, together with five freshmen, complete the cross-country team. A noteworthy observation is that all five freshmen graduated from Calvert Hall which has neither cross-country nor track on its athletic program. Not one man from Mount St. Joe, which participates in both sports, showed any interest in cross-country. According to McElroy, Paul Rhode and Jim Henneman have demonstrated the most running ability among the freshmen in initial practices. The other three newcomers to Evergreen who are seeking first string berths are Mick Lombardi, Tom Gunning and John Lawler.

Paul Feild is Capt.

Coach McElroy still needs more student participation if Loyola is to remain in Mason-Dixon competition in future years. He quickly adds that, unlike most other sports, no experience whatsoever is needed. The season is very short, extending from early October to mid-November. This year's captain, Paul Feild, has completed two successful seasons at both cross-country and track, yet he had never entered a high school meet.

How the Hounds will fare this year will not be known until almost Thanksgiving. However, it is a certainty that unless athletic participation and student interest increase, Loyola will be near or at the bottom again.

Aquarians Meet On Okinawa To Vie For Medals

by Larry Hart

To many of us this may be a big, rude and wonderful world, but to three Loyola graduates, it is a small one. Out in the South Pacific in the latter part of August, three Loyolans met after being separated over a year.

Army Meet

It seems that the United States' Armed Forces Far Eastern Command was staging its annual swimming meet to select qualified swimmers to go to the All-Army Swimming meets in the U.S. Representing the Ryecom Engineer Depot at Okinawa came Jerry Rooney, standout on the Greyhound swimming teams of 1950, '51, '52 and '53. In Korea, representing the U. S. occupation forces, was Bob Bollinger, standout on the same teams with Rooney. Coming from Japan was Andy McCormick, an outstanding member of the 1950 Greyhound Championship team.

Meet in Korea

As the swimming meet got under way, the three had no idea that the others were going to swim until the day of the meet.

Although none qualified for the All-Army events in the States, all three swam against the toughest opposition they had ever met. From letters that this writer has read and from Army publications, Rooney swam the best time of his life in the 100 yard free style event, Bollinger, who was always a long distance swimmer, swam against some of the best Army competition in the Far East.

Rooney Places Second

As far as the results went, Korea won with 59 points, Japan had 49 and Ryecom had 19. The competition was really sharp, says Jerry Rooney in a letter to home. However, Jerry did place second in the 50 yard event, losing the race by one tenth of a second. In the 100 yard he took a third and also swam on the relay team.

Army Paper Says

In qualifying to go to Korea, Rooney had to meet some of the toughest swimmers on Okinawa. Here is a quote from a Service Paper.

"Both teams had double winners: Gerald Rooney—Ryecom Speedster winning both the 50 and 100 meter freestyle while Okinawa's 14 year old wonder boy, Shiroma won both the 200 and 400 meter distances, although his real speciality is the mile swim."

While a freshman at Loyola College, Rooney set the Mason-Dixon 100 yd. freestyle record of 55.6 seconds. That year he also won the 50 yd. sprint, was a member of the winning relay team, and compiled 19 out of 20 wins, losing only to All-American Bob Regan, of LaSalle.

Rooney accomplished this record after only one year of varsity competition at Loyola High School. While a sophomore and junior, he swam for the junior varsity during the school year, and for the Y-Brook team during the summer. Rooney climaxed his high-school career by winning the 40 yd. race.

Bollinger was the 220 yd. titlist while here. He stated in a Greyhound interview during his senior year that although his greatest thrill was to win the 220 yd. freestyle as a freshman against North Carolina, nevertheless the greatest competitor he had ever faced was Rooney. Bollinger captained the 1953 squad.

Meet Away Saturday

As stated before, the first meet will be held on October 16 against Johns Hopkins, the Mason-Dixon champions at Homewood. If you have never seen a cross-country meet, here is your chance. You will not only be doing yourself a favor but you will also be supporting a Greyhound team which sorely needs both participants and spectators.

Cagers Start On October 25

Charlie McCullogh, all time M.S.A. record holder, nine sophomores from last season's record breaking freshman team, four juniors, and two senior returnees will attend Coach Lefty Reitz's initial basketball practice on October 25.

Alumni First

The annual Alumni game will open the season on November 27. League play will begin Dec. 5, at Baltimore U., after four practice tills against outside competition. Ten games will be played on the Loyola hardwood.

Captain Bob Cucuel, from Greenwich, Connecticut and Bill Sturm, of Calvert Hall, are the seniors on the squad. Jim Allenbaugh, of Loyola High, Bob Benzing, of Mt. St. Joe, Bill Brown, of Kenwood and Waide Howley, from Greenwich, are the junior veterans.

Record Holder

McCullogh, a 6'8", 225 pounder, who set the M.S.A. record of 28.8 points per game for McDonough, from 1949-1951, and who was the first Marylander chosen to the North-South All-Star Game (he was high scorer in 1951 with 15 tallies) returns to Loyola after two years of service ball with Camps Hilmer and Breckenridge. He there made second team on the All-Army squad by averaging 22 points per game. He averaged 11 points as a freshman in 1951 before he went into the service.

Freshmen

Jack Benzing, Jerry Komin and Earl Hamper, of St. Joe, Paul Dodd, an all-state jump shot artist from New Jersey, Cookie Fava, of Loyola, Carroll Fitzgerald and Jim Staiti, of Calvert Hall, Gene Grimes, of Tonson Catholic and 6'7" George Leyh of Poly are up from the freshman team. This team averaged 90 points for its last seven games, winning 13 and losing only 2.

Komin and Grimes were first team All-Maryland in 1953, Komin being chosen captain and best bet.

GREYHOUND SPORTS

by Jim Cole, Sports Editor

Running With The Hounds

Loyola College has opened its 1954 fall sports season. The soccer team started against a strong University of Maryland outfit last Wednesday. The cross-country squad too, will soon begin its hill and daleing. This grueling sport has had a difficult time getting started at Loyola. It is only through the untiring efforts of coach Bill McElroy that the Green and Grey is represented in Mason-Dixon competition this year. The 1953 team had a record of no wins in five dual meets. This poor showing can be attributed in part to the fact that the Hound thinclads entered meets with one, and sometimes two men short of the seven-man team limit. With the graduation of Ed Colbourn and Frank Pugh, Mac was faced with the dismal fact of having only two returning lettermen. He then proceeded to recruit some eight men, all underclassmen, to fill out the squad. None of the eight had run before but, unlike other sports, where experience plays a vital part, cross-country needs only good lungs and a strong pair of legs. Though not a so called "power" in the conference, this team could very well pull a few surprises.

Basketball Soon

Both the advent of football and the exit of baseball come in the same season, the Fall. This season marks the advent of another major sport which will soon start at Loyola—basketball. There are only six lettermen returning to answer Coach Lefty Reitz's first call to practice, but with the great performance turned in by last year's freshman team, and with the return of Charlie McCullogh, Lefty can probably count on another successful season. This freshman team was one of the best yearling squads ever seen on the Evergreen floor. It reached an all time high in points scored in one game, when it racked up 121 in crushing Baltimore U. The team posted a very creditable 13-2 record. The two losses were at the beginning of the season to Villanova and Georgetown. It averaged 78.8 points per game for the season.

Toughest Mason-Dixon team for the Hounds will again be Mt. St. Mary's, who won the tournament last year.

Boosters Start

The Boosters Club is again in the process of reorganizing. The purpose of this organization is to bolster school spirit in all extracurricular activities, athletics included; in other words, to try to put the old "College Spirit" back in Loyola College. In its setup, the club plans to have men in each class who will push the various activities in those classes. All those interested should see Larry Hart, Charlie Wunder or Jack Doetzer. While on the subject of boosting sports, a giant alumni rally was held on Thursday, September 30, in the gym to accelerate the sale of season books for the basketball games. Movies of the outstanding Colt plays of last year were shown. Frank Skaff of the Orioles was also there. He gave a short talk on the Birds' chances next year under their new manager. After this, refreshments were served.

Good Sign

In complying with the wishes of the athletic department as expressed at last year's banquet by both Fr. Arthur and Lefty Reitz for more off season practice, lacrosse players can be seen in the afternoons tossing the ball around and generally keeping in shape. This fact bodes well for the lacrosse team next season. Different members of the baseball team also conformed to Lefty's request by playing with various sandlot teams in the city during the Summer. Jerry McCarron, Jim Donohue, John Quinn, Earl Hamper and Joe Mace were just a few of the many to do so. From the basketball standpoint, Bill Brown could be seen playing at night in the wilds of West Baltimore with the boys from Jack's Bar, City Unlimited Champs. This off season practice is a good omen for the chances of all future Hound teams.

Upsets

Football has had an unusually large amount of upsets this season. Highly ranked teams like Maryland, Illinois, Michigan State, Pittsburg, Georgia Tech and Notre Dame have been beaten. The latter was the biggest surprise. After a most auspicious debut in which they literally "ran over" a highly regarded Texas team, Coach Brennan's crew was just outplayed by a surprisingly strong Purdue squad. Way out on the coast, a week ago last Friday, U.C.L.A. defeated Maryland in a mild upset. By this victory, the coast team stamped itself as one of the best in the country and upped the sunken prestige of the Westerners considerably.
